Create LASTING IMPACT

So The Lessons & Skills Learned At Your Event
 Go Beyond Just One Day Of Motivation

Your audience needs more than just a one-time event that pumps them up, boosts their morale, and helps them overcome their fears of failure. And your event already does so much for them: They learn new ways to address challenges, communicate effectively, and reach their full potential. HOWEVER, they typically don't take those new skills and excitement with them back to their work and everyday lives.

But Scott Chesney can profoundly change the results you get from your next event. At the age of 15, Scott had a spinal stroke that left him paralyzed - a circumstance that could have him hanging up his potential for a safer, easier life. But he has real skills that he will share with your teams to have them step beyond their own fears and reach for the stars! His specialty is swooping in to “bring it all together” so your people can actually carry on with their lives, changed for the better. He is all about helping them hold on to the lessons they learn from your event and transform that motivation into everyday, ongoing momentum.

7 Reasons To Hire Scott Chesney

- Scott connects on the deepest of levels with his audience. If you want your people to remember what they learn at your event, you need Scott to drive home the lessons and leave a permanent mark on their motivation.
- Scott inspires audience to believe and act on their full potential to contribute, connect, and create. And this is much more than just surface-level, rah rah motivation. Because of that deep connection he creates motivation that's palpable and long-lasting.
- Scott teaches your people how to embrace adversity and change so they can roll with the punches when things change (again) at your company. This is important because if you're growing, you're changing and that can often lead to high turnover. Scott will give your people the skills to adapt and stay the course.
- Scott shares how important it is to develop the right mindset before skillset. The skills only matter when your head is in the right place, that's why Scott's program is so powerful and effective.
- Scott is entertaining and delivers both high energy and high content. Not a boring, snoozefest presentation that will be forgotten as soon as the event is over.
- Scott helps your teams identify what their true fears are so they can leverage that knowledge into motivation that propels them toward their goals.
- Scott opens your audience's minds up to introspective thinking so they can have a stronger sense of self, better emotional intelligence, and can play to their own strengths to achieve their potential.

“Thank you for your well-organized and inspirational seminar. Your inspirational message of ‘Maximizing Change’ was so well-received, thought-provoking, and a motivational force for them.”

- The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI)

“What a powerful impact your presentation had on our 500+ employees in attendance. They are still going out of their way to tell me how inspiring they found your talk.”

- AVIS
